

- Emergency vehicle arrived but was carrying old style oxygen cylinders so could not use them. (Mark Scott, City & Hackney)
- I had experience of bombs when I was in Northern Ireland and was very scared then. I felt secure today – on every occasion, Bronze asked me my call sign, name etc. I was aware that I was being looked after. The LAS knew who I was and where I was. Not like when I was in Northern Ireland. I was very scared though. (Kevin Brown, Shoreditch)
